

Nominate gas work for inspection

GET A FREE GAS SAFETY INSPECTION FOR YOUR HOME

After you have had gas work completed in your property you can nominate your installation to have a Gas Safe Register inspection, to make sure it meets the right standards.

On 1 April 2009 it became a legal requirement for anyone installing, servicing or maintaining a gas appliance in Great Britain or Isle of Man to be registered with Gas Safe Register. Gas Safe Register exists to protect you, your family, and your property from dangerous gas work.

We inspect gas work undertaken to ensure that registered businesses continue to work in accordance with manufacturer's instructions and industry standards. To help us do this, we ask customers if we can undertake a free gas safety inspection on the completed gas work.

If you have had gas work completed in the last six months and would like us to consider the gas work completed at your property for inspection, please complete the form on the reverse. Alternatively you can contact us on 0800 408 5500 or visit our website at www.GasSafeRegister.co.uk to register for an inspection.

Please note the business that completed the gas work will be advised of the inspection and will be given the option to attend. We cannot inspect every installation nominated and therefore advise that your property may not be selected for inspection.
